ANNOUNCEMENTS

AUDITORIUM
The Biggest Show in Town at Little Prices—Girls, Fun, Laughter and Feature Photographs.

The programme offered at the Auditorium yesterday, which will be repeated today, is a bright, snappy musical comedy entitled The Office Boy, and Billy Hall proved his worth as a comedian by keeping the audience in tears of laughter.

Miss Edna Gray, leading lady, made her usual hit and her song numbers were well received. Miss Tida Eldridge, prima donna, has a well trained voice and sings with good expression.

The picture programme includes Mary Anderson and Alfred Whitman in a five-part feature entitled When Men Are Tempted, and the latest current events, also a Mack Bennett comedy, Secrets of the Beauty Parlor, which is very funny.

BREED THEATRE

Rita Jolivet, World Renowned Lusitania Survivor, Re-enacts on the Screen Her Thrilling Experiences on the ill-fated Steamer—At the Breed Theatre Friday and Saturday, Two Days Only.

The star of Lest We Forget, beautiful Rita Jolivet, was herself a passenger on the Lusitania on its ill-fated trip, and heard these immortal words of her fellow passenger, Charles Freeman, "Why fear death? Death is the most beautiful adventure in life." Her life was spared to be a living witness to the tragedy of the Hun.

This great ten-act production provides a mighty panorama of events now historical, connected with the opening days of the war, and follows progress through the latter months of the conflict. A beautiful love story rhymes like a star through darkness, the war of battle sometimes seeming like a mighty accompaniment to the human drama being played.

The scenes of the Lusitania are especially thrilling. The selling, the vast crowds of friends wishing bon voyage to the passengers, flashes of various activities and amusements on board ship, are followed by the launching of the deadly torpedo from the German submarine, the sinking of the vessel with water and the panic and excitement of the amazed passengers, the sea shown plunging into the water, some swimming to small boats, others sinking to the ocean's depths.

unique in film production in that it was taken through the active cooperation of a branch of the United States defense; the Marine Corps. Marine officers and men take part in the presentation of the play. The picture breathes the fervor of intense loyalty, and tells a story that is in itself a powerful sermon.

The Unbeliever is the story of a man who finds his faith in the smoke and din of battle. Paul Landout, a young American aristocrat, who has little faith in God, humanity or the brotherhood of man, joins the marines and once "over there" finds his unbelief are but shadows, and God, humanity and brotherhood are real. This super-feature is based on Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews' novelette, The Three Things. There will also be a Thos. H. Ince feature and a Pathe comedy. And there will positively be no advance in prices for this special engagement.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Bloomfield.—A service flag was dedicated Sunday at the Methodist church for the seven members who are in the service of their country.

Branford.—Cynthia Westover Allen branch of the International Audubon society held its annual picnic at the summer home of Mrs. E. Pierson at Short Beach Wednesday.

Danbury.—The offices of the Central New England railroad will be moved from Poughkeepsie to Danbury. A building for the offices is to be ready by Aug. 1 and the offices are to be located in it by that date.

Meriden.—Attorney C. J. Danaher has received a letter from George W. Wheeler, chairman of the executive committee of the Connecticut state council of defense, complimenting him on his Fourth of July address.

Redding.—Nine farmettes who have been working on Sunset farm, Redding, began work on the farm of A. B. Brundage, King street district, Danbury, this week, and will be there for several months, Mr. Brundage by doing general farming work.

Suffield.—Rev. Raymond Maplesden, pastor of the First Baptist church at Middletown, will be here, having been engaged as pastor there during the absence of Rev. Edgar R. Hyde, who is in France. Rev. Mr. Maplesden will still continue his duties at the Suffield church.

South Manchester.—Notices were posted in a different department of Cheney Brothers' plant Saturday announcing that the company had been able to secure hard coal and that it would furnish employees certain quantities of coal free of charge to secure the necessary supply from the coal dealers in town.

Haddam.—In years past farmers in Haddam have hired the County Jail prisoners and the labor of these men would be appreciated this year, but of course cannot be secured. Out of the 14 prisoners at the jail now, only 10 can be used as four of them are awaiting trial and cannot be allowed out of the jail building. The decrease in the number of prisoners is thought to be due to the demand for labor all over the country and the consequent depletion in the ranks of tramps abroad.
